FEDERAL SUIT TO PREVENT MERGER OF NEW HAVEN ROAD WITHDRAWN BY WICKERSHAM

Nothing Now to Prevent Consolidation of New Haven System With Boston & Maine and the Ultimate Installation of a Single Great Railroad Monopoly in New England.

Washington, June 25.—The suit against the New Haven and the Boston and Maine railroads which was instituted under the Sherman anti-trust law late in the spring of 1908 by Charles J. Bonaparte, who was then Attorney-General, has been dismissed by direction of Attorney-General Wickersham. The Attorney General in a statement issued from the Department of Justice explained that the suit against the New Haven railroad merger was dismissed because the Legislature of Massachusetts had passed an act specifically authorizing the consolidation of corporations by stock ownership.

The statement of Attorney-General Wickersham is in part as follows: "The Attorney-General received today a certified copy of the act passed by the Legislature of Massachusetts, creating the Boston Railroad Holding Company. This act authorizes the new corporation created under it to acquire and hold all or any part of the stock and bonds of the Boston & Maine Railroad Company; and further authorizes any railroad corporation theretofore incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts to acquire and hold the stock and bonds of the Boston Holding Company."

"The purpose and effect of this statute, is to authorize the consolidation of the Boston & Maine Railroad Company and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company. This is to be accomplished first by the Boston Holding Company acquiring the control of the Boston & Maine Railroad Company, and next, by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company acquiring control of the Boston Holding Company."

"The statute further provides that the stock of the Boston & Maine be acquired by the holding company shall not hereafter be sold without express authority from the Legislature, and that the stock of the holding company, if acquired by the New Haven road, shall not hereafter be sold without express authority of the Legislature. Finally it is provided that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts may, at any time, by an act of the Legislature, upon one year's notice, take for its own use, by purchase or otherwise, all the stock and bonds of the holding company upon certain terms designed to protect creditors and secure just compensation. Since the community most directly affected is the State of Massachusetts, whose Legislature expressly authorizes such consolidation, the Attorney General has determined to dismiss the Government's action."

"The further complaint was made that the New Haven railroad had acquired a number of trolley lines in Massachusetts and adjoining states, and that this was a combination in restraint of inter-state commerce. Since the government's suit was determined upon, however, the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts has decided that the railroad company has no such power, and that company has been parting with such trolley properties."

"There is not now in this case any such element of competition in inter-state commerce by reason of such ownership of trolley lines as would justify a further prosecution of the action."

MR. Mellen's Statement.

Matter Now up to John L. Billard Who Has Control of B. & M. Stock.

New Haven, June 25.—In New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad circles here the decision of the attorney-general of the United States to withdraw the suit against the corporation under the Sherman act has been received with some surprise.

When shown the dispatches announcing the withdrawal by the attorney-general of the federal suits against the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and Boston and Maine railroads, President C. S. Mellen, of the New Haven, made the following statement:

"I have no official notification of the dismissal of this federal suit, but, assuming that the Press reports are correct, it would seem as if there were no legal obstacles remaining to prevent the merger of the two companies. Mr. Billard, however, has control of the Boston & Maine stock and the only possible obstacle is whether he will be willing to relinquish that control."

MALONE SAYS ENDS

NAVIGATION DISPUTE, TOO. Boston, June 25.—State Attorney-General Dana Malone, when informed of the withdrawal of the federal suit, made the following statement:

"In case the United States government withdraws its trust law violation suit against the New Haven road, it will end all controversy regarding the navigation companies, the Boston & Albany railroad and the Boston & Maine, also the Massachusetts Holding company, of which Mr. Billard is the head, and I would not be surprised at such a move. On the other hand it will in no way affect the trolley situation as far as Massachusetts is concerned and the state can pursue its own course."

MOTHER OF TWO DIVORCED FROM HARD DRINKER

In the Superior Court, civil side, yesterday afternoon Judge J. Curtis allowed the divorce suit of Elizabeth V. Clark of Norwalk against Harry F. Clark, formerly a box manufacturer in Danbury, but now also of Norwalk. It was also heard before Judge Curtis two weeks ago, evidence being brought out to show the cruelty of the defendant. Mrs. Clark told the court that she only remained with him for the sake of her two children, as she could not support them herself. The evidence brought out yesterday was to show that the defendant was a hard drinker.

REDMOND SANG AND W. & W. BAND PLAYED

The band concert season at Washington Park was opened last night by the Wheeler & Wilson band, playing the same selections as was played at Seaside park a week ago, with the exception of the songs by Mr. William Redmond of New York who last evening sang "Don't Be An Old Maid Molly" and "Let's Go Out On a Joy Ride." The selections were rendered in a very clear manner and well received by the large crowd which had turned out. The next concert by Wheeler & Wilson's band will be on Thursday, July 1st at Seaside Park.

John Healy, well known on the East Side, died last evening at his home, 59 Booth street, after a brief illness with pneumonia. The deceased was a brass moulder by trade. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Robert Dixon, Margaret and Theresa Healy, and one son, John.

"JIM" TURNER DISABLED

Diving from a rock at Fairfield Beach, yesterday afternoon James A. Turner, the well known lawyer, fractured his left knee cap. Dr. J. L. Sullivan, Dr. S. R. Tittsworth, and C. I. Crosby, who were with him, gave first aid and he was brought to this city where the fracture was reduced. He will be disabled for several weeks.

GREEKS PROTEST AGAINST TREATMENT BY TURKEY.

(Special from United Press.) Athens, June 25.—The Greek government today sent a strong protest to Turkey against the treatment of many of the Greek residents in Turkey who are suspected of plotting an uprising against Turkey. Greek consuls in Turkey report that the authorities are ransacking the homes and shops of scores of Greeks, and have tortured many of them to wring confessions of plots from them. Several Greeks have died from this treatment. The consuls say they have tried to interfere but have been wholly ignored. Messages from Crete today say that the Christians and Moslems are already fighting in the mountains. The Christians have a big superiority in numbers and have been victorious up to today.

DYING FROM BURNS IN BOILING OIL TANK.

(Special from United Press.) New York, June 25.—Joseph Ignely is dying at Coney Island hospital today from burns received by taking an involuntary swim in a tank of boiling oil in a refuse scow. Ignely was employed in pouring the boiling oil over the refuse, the oil being conveyed in a great vat in which he fell. He swam about in the boiling liquid until pulled out with grappling irons. He was almost cooked alive.
